TO DISSOLVE TRUST

Uncle Sam Is Getting After the Tobacco Combine.

PETITION IS FILED IN COURT

Purpose of the Government is to Dissolve Trust by Breaking Up Agreements Under which Consolidated Concerns Are Now Working.

New York, July 11.—The government Wednesday filed in the United States circuit court in this city a petition against the American Tobacco company, the American Cigar company, the United Cigar Stores company, the American Stogie company, the MacAndrews and Forbes company, the Corley Foli company and 56 other corporations and 29 individuals connected with the named companies.

These corporations and individuals constitute what is generally known as the "tobacco trust," and the petition directed against them sets forth the purpose of the government to dissolve this trust by breaking up the agreements under which the consolidated concerns are working.

In showing the growth of the "trust" since its organization in 1890, the conclusion is reached that at an early day, unless prevented, it would completely monopolize the entire tobacco industry.

Acts Violated.

That all of the defendants are engaged in interstate and foreign trade and commerce in the tobacco products manufactured therefrom is alleged by the petition. It is stated that the act of July 8, 1890, "To protect trade and commerce," and subsequent acts have been violated and the government therefore seeks to prevent and restrain the unlawful existing agreements, combinations and conspiracies and attempts to monopolize and break up perfected monopolies. The government asks that the existing combinations, conspiracies and monopolies be enjoined, and that each of the defendant companies be restrained from holding or controlling stock in any other. It is asked further that the Imperial Tobacco company be enjoined from doing business within the jurisdiction of the United States until it shall have ceased to observe the terms of its agreement with American companies; that certain of the defendants be declared combinations in restraint of trade and be enjoined from engaging in interstate and foreign trade and commerce or that a receiver be appointed to take charge of their affairs and administer them so as to bring about conditions in harmony with the law.

Total Assets $275,000,000.

The organization of the tobacco trust, according to the petition, dates from the formation of the American Tobacco company in 1890 to acquire the competing cigarette manufacturers, with joint assets much less than $25,000,000, and an annual consumption of leaf under 15,000,000 pounds. The petition shows the subsequent history, development and growth of that company until its total assets now exceed $275,000,000, and likewise the origin and manipulation of scores of created, acquired and controlled corporations utilized as agencies to accomplish the general design. The progressive absorption and elimination of competitors and destruction of formidable opposition, and the entry by defendants into various departments of manufacture and trade, domestic and foreign, into tobacco products with intent to monopolize. The allegation is made that the members of the combination have divided up the tobacco business of the world assigning to some special territory for unopposed exploitation. It is declared that the consolidated corporations annually purchase 475,000,000 pounds of domestic leaf and of the total produced in the United States manufacture, sell and distribute more than 280,000,000 pounds (80 per cent) of the smoking and plug tobacco; 95 per cent of the snuff; 90 per cent of the cigarettes; 75 per cent of the small cigars; 95 per cent of the floor products, 80 per cent of the tin foil products and 10 to 15 per cent of the cigars and stories that they are rapidly acquiring control of the ordinary agencies—jobbers, wholesalers and retailers—through which tobacco products are distributed.

STORM AT LOUISVILLE.

Several Fatalities and Much Damage to Property.

Louisville, Ky., July 11.—A terrific windstorm which burst upon the city shortly before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon brought death to one man and two boys and injury to several other persons.

Many horses and mules were killed, buildings unroofed, smaller structures blown down and unprecedented damage done to shade trees all over the city.

The records of the weather bureau show that the maximum velocity of the wind was 65 miles an hour during the height of the storm, and the wind blew at the rate of 60 miles for 15 minutes.

Several streets were impassable for blocks Tuesday night owing to the trees which littered the roadways.

Street car service was suspended for several hours.

Both telephone companies report a serious interruption to their service.

The property loss is roughly estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

Storm at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., July 11.—Birmingham was visited by a very severe electrical storm Tuesday afternoon, and while no casualties have been reported, there was heavy damage, especially to electrical properties. Motors on fourteen electric cars were burned out, leaving them helpless in various parts of the city, and between 1,200 and 1,400 telephones were put out of commission by the lightning.

FAIRBANKS A HERO.

Vice President Saves Young Girl from Drowning.

Yellowstone Park, July 11.—Vice President Fairbanks risked his life to save Miss Lena Waters, a waitress at the Park hotel. While sitting on the hotel veranda, talking to J. L. Gibbs, proprietor of the hotel, the vice president heard screams from the lake. Seeing a young woman struggling in the water, Vice President Fairbanks ran toward the water, throwing off his coat as he sped toward the shore. He rushed past two men who stood on a pier with mouths gaping in alarm.

The vice president leaped into the water and made for the girl; one of the men followed. The men dragged the unconscious girl to the shore after hard work. Mr. Fairbanks at once began to work the girl's arms and to chafe her hands to resuscitate her. After some effort, she was revived.

DEPOSITS REACH $100,000,000.

Unprecedented Showing in History of Savings Banks.

New York, July 11.—At the close of business Tuesday the deposits in the Bowers Savings bank reached a total of $100,000,000, a showing, it was said, unprecedented in the history of savings banks, and one never before attained by any savings institution in the world.

A noticeable feature commented upon by savings bank officials is the influx of deposits from remote sections of the country, indicating that even small hamlets are getting their share of prosperity.

King Edward Visits Ireland.

Kingstown, Ireland, July 11.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert with King Edward and Queen Alexandra aboard, anchored in the harbor here before daylight Wednesday. The yacht was escorted by the cruisers Black Prince and Antrim. A royal salute was fired. The weather was fine, the town was completely bedecked with flags and triumphal arches, and from the earliest hours streams of people poured into Kingstown to witness the landing of their majesties.

The convention was ushered in on Tuesday night with the presentation of Handel's Messiah.

Eight thousand people packed the immense tent erected for the convention to listen to the rendition of the famous oratory.

HAYWOOD TRIAL

Defense in Steunenberg Murder Trial Closes Its Case.

Boise, Idaho, July 11.—With the exception of Charles H. Meyer, the president and William D. Haywood, the secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, the defense in the Steunenberg murder trial closed Wednesday its case in direct.

A portion of the morning session having been given to the further reading of depositions taken in San Francisco, two or three witnesses came up for examination. Among these is Fred Miller, one of the attorneys for William D. Haywood. Miller acted as attorney for Harry Orchard when the self-confessed murderer of Steunenberg was arrested at Caldwell.

According to witnesses for the state, Miller, who practiced at Spokane, sent a telegram to Orchard when he was in jail at Caldwell, announcing that he was coming to his assistance. This message, it is charged, was in pursuance of an arrangement made by Haywood that the Western Federation of Miners would defend the murderer.

FIRST LARGE TURBINE SHIP.

Placed in Commission for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

New York, July 11.—America's first large turbine steamship, the Creole, was formally placed in commission Tuesday at a luncheon at which E. H. Harriman was host aboard the vessel.

The Creole will start in a few days on her maiden voyage in the New York-New Orleans service of the Southern Pacific Railway company. The Creole is 440 feet long, 67 feet beam, displacement 10,000 tons, and has a carrying capacity of 4,500 tons.

Engines will drive her through the water at the rate of 18 miles an hour, making possible a schedule of from Wednesday to Monday for the voyage from New York to New Orleans. The steamer will connect there with the Southern Pacific railroad line for the west.

JAPS MAY APPEAL TO COURTS.

Action of Police Commissioners of San Francisco, Calif.

San Francisco, July 11.—An exhaustive report of all the facts in connection with the recent refusal of the police commissioners to grant employment office licenses to Japanese or other aliens was mailed to Attorney General Bonaparte by United States District Attorney Devlin Tuesday.

There is every indication that the Japanese will appeal to the courts to have it determined whether their treaty rights have been infringed upon by the action of the police commissioners in denying the intelligence office licenses.

There is no ordinance on the books prohibiting the issuance of employment office licenses of aliens, but the police commissioners contend that such business comes within their police powers and that their action does not discriminate against Japanese nor infringe their treaty rights, they being treated the same as other aliens.

BRIEF DISPATCHES.

The federal grand jury at Chicago, Ill., has returned an indictment against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad of 65 counts on the charge of rebating.

Indications are that the telegraphers' strike will spread and that the next walkout of operators will occur in some large eastern center.

President Fallieres, as the guest of Ambassador White, Wednesday viewed the new model of the Lafayette statue in Bartlett's studio.

The gold movement which began several weeks ago still continues, and Wednesday the Russo-Chinese bank engaged $1,000,000 in gold for shipment to Paris Thursday. This will make a total of $28,555,000 in gold shipped or engaged, since the present gold movement began.

Big Ship Hits Iceberg.

New York, July 11.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which arrived Wednesday with Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German ambassador, on board, collided with an iceberg Monday, four days out from Bremen. The ship struck the berg a glancing blow and no damage resulted. The accident occurred at night and but few passengers were aware of its occurrence.

GREAT AUTO CONTEST

Eighty-One Cars Enter For the Glidden Trophy.

TRIP TO COVER 1,600 MILES

Three Hundred Men and Women in Fantastic Automobile Garb Leave Cleveland, Ohio, for a Dash Across the Country.

Cleveland, O., July 11.—Through a tunnel of closely packed and cheering spectators, three hundred men and women in fantastic automobile garb glided away from Cleveland on Wednesday morning, in the cars entered for the Glidden trophy of 1907.

From 7 o'clock, when the first car went away, until the last one was speeding westward, there was imminent danger that somebody would be killed, as the crowd overlapped the radiators and the steps of the automobiles.

In all, eighty-one cars started on the tour, including the official car carrying Charles J. Glidden, the giver of the trophy, which was the origin of the run, and Chairman Frank B. Hower, who gives the Hower trophy for touring runabouts.

The tourists will cover about 1,600 miles on the trip.

Toledo, Chicago, Indianapolis, Columbus, Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York, will be visited in the order named.

No racing will be permitted, the pace being limited to not more than 20 miles per hour.

WAR NOT WANTED.

Congressman Hull on the United States and Jap Question.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 11.—"Neither Japan nor the United States want a war at this time," said Congressman J. A. T. Hull Wednesday.

Mr. Hull is chairman of the house committee on military affairs.

"If there is war, we will at first lose the Philippines, and the Hawaiian Islands, but we would triumph in the end, for the United States would build warships and fight out a victory. We are the only nation which can conduct a war and get rich at the same time."

Aoki Won't Return Home.

Tokio, July 10.—The report that Ambassador Aoki will return home is officially denied.

The Nochi will withdraw the interview with Admiral Sakamoto. The latter was quoted as saying that the American naval officers were brilliant social figures but deficient in professional training and practice and that the crews of American ships would retreat rather than fight Japan.

Simultaneously with the withdrawal of this interview the Nochi will publish an anonymous interview with a Japanese naval expert highly eulogistic of the efficiency of the present navy and the high standard of its gunnery.

Lineman Killed.

Atlanta, July 11.—Frank Norton, a lineman of the Atlanta Telephone & Telegraph company, son of J. W. INGLIS A GREAT PORT.

Exports for Year Ending June 30 Amounted to Nearly $1,700,000.

The port of Port Inglis, which is located at the mouth of the Withlacoochee river, is rapidly gaining in importance as a port of export for large quantities of phosphate, lumber and naval stores are exported from that station annually to every country of the world.

Fred Cubberly of Cedar Key, collector of customs for the ports of Cedar Key and Port Inglis, stated a day or two ago that the exports from Port Inglis amounted to $1,700,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, and that the shipments comprised phosphate, lumber and naval stores, the greater proportion being phosphate.

Port Inglis is naturally the outlet for a large and prolific phosphate field, including Dunnellon, Holder, Floral City and Withlacoochee river sections, which are among the richest phosphate fields in the world, mining and shipping millions of tons annually.

In speaking of the business transacted and clearing from this port for the year, Collector Cubberly stated that he only had a record of the exports, and that the American or coastwise shipping amounted to a great deal. The largest number of vessels ever entered were those shown on the books for the fiscal year just closing, and some of the vessels were tremendous in tonnage, one steamship measuring five hundred feet.

DOWS ARRIVED SAFELY.

Reached Greenwood Without Mishap, and Mr. Dow is Feeling Better.

A letter received by The Sun from Mrs. W. E. Dow, who, with her husband and son, W. E. Jr., left Gainesville Saturday for Greenwood, S. C., bears information that the party reached their destination safely, and that Mr. Dow, who has been suffering from paralysis, is already feeling a great deal better, the change of climate having a most desirable effect.

Mrs. Dow orders The Sun sent to her address, as she says she cannot well do without it.

Friends of Mr. Dow will be glad to learn that he made the trip safely, and that he is feeling so much better. It is hoped that he will be restored to his normal health, and will return ready to resume his duties in his office.

Having a Big Time.

There are a number of Gainesville folks sojourning at Daytona Beach, and all report that they are having "the biggest kind of a time" surf bathing and fishing. There are several families from this city, and fortunately they are near together.

Many more expect to go, some of whom will leave during the present week.

In all, the Gainesville colony is making the best of the opportunity, and judging from reports they are "getting their money's worth."

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors but Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema of that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow-greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 4. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 5, and he said the eyesight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement, and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."

GEO. STUART GETS DOG.

Was Impressed With Goodwin's Stock, and Insisted on Having a Pup.

Rev. George R. Stuart, the famous evangelist who is known from one end of the United States to the other, and who makes annual visits to the Bible Conference here, will in future have a Gainesville dog to "guard" his home in Cleveland, Tenn., and romp the meadows and sweet-scented clover fields during the hunting season.

While here at the last session of the Bible Conference Mr. Stuart became deeply in love with J. A. Goodwin's fine canines, and selected a fine English setter pup, a thoroughbred, which he instructed Mr. Goodwin to send him at the proper time.

The pup was shipped by express and will make a valuable acquisition to the canine division of Mr. Stuart's home.

SOLID TRAIN OF WOOD.

The Tampa and Jacksonville Brought Fifteen Cars on One Train.

The Tampa and Jacksonville railroad on Thursday hauled into Gainesville probably the first solid train load of wood ever brought here. The train comprised fifteen flat cars, all heavily loaded, the wood being consigned to the Gainesville Ice Company. It is said by those in a position to know that the freight on this consignment amounted to $145.20.

This is "some wood," to use the expression, and the Gainesville Ice Company will probably not be compelled to make another order for fuel for some time.

OLD LANDMARK IS GOING.

Old Building at Corner of East Main and East Liberty Street.

In order to give way to modern times and modern methods, the old building which for the past twenty-five years or more has commanded an imposing position at the corner of East Main and Liberty streets, and a building in which several fortunes have been made, is being torn away and by the end of the present year a magnificent brick structure will have taken its place.

For seventeen years past virtually one concern has occupied this building, the original firm being Phillip Miller & Co. At that time M. B. Saunders was connected with the business. The firm of O'Donald & Saunders succeeded Phillip Miller & Co., and later this firm was supplanted by Saunders & Earle, who have just vacated the place. During all this time Mr. Saunders has been connected with the firm, which gives him the distinction of being one of the oldest merchants in the city, in time of service.

Saunders & Earle are now located in the new and up-to-date Graham building, East Main street N.

Party Has Disbanded

The party of classmates of East Florida Seminary who have been here for several days as guests of H. LeRoy Taylor, have departed for their respective homes after a delightful visit, during which time they were afforded an opportunity of renewing acquaintances with many of their old Gainesville friends.

This party assembled here at the invitation of Sergeant Taylor, an old East Florida Seminary boy who is now a student of West Point, under the name of the Aris Club (for at least a remnant of it), a club to which the young men belonged in their school days here.

The party comprised Wm. D. Whitney of Fernandina, LeRoy Giles of Orlando, A. L. Herzog of Savannah, and A. Birdsey of Macon, Ga., the latter being here only two days—Sunday and Monday.

This gathering was a most pleasing and enjoyable feature, as the young men were intimately associated at the Seminary. It was a gathering which all will remember and appreciate, as Sergeant Taylor extended to his guests every courtesy while here.

OAK HALLS WON OUT.

Defeated Elks in National Game by a Score of 12 to 4.

There was only a handful of spectators out to see the game between the Oak Halls, Jr., and Elk baseball teams Thursday afternoon, but those who did go appeared to enjoy the game thoroughly.

After a prettily played game, the score at the end of the ninth inning was 12 to 4 in favor of the Oak Halls, Jr. Those present enjoyed the game thoroughly, however, and left feeling satisfied that they had gotten their money's worth.

THE SPITZ BULLET.

Officers and medical men in the army and navy are surprised and puzzled over the talk at the Hague of inventing the new "Spitz" bullet in civilized warfare. This bullet has been adopted officially by England, France, Germany and the United States, so that its elimination would seriously affect the biggest power in the world. The Hague has already indicated the use of the "dum-dum" bullet on the grounds of humanity, and quite properly. This is the soft-nosed bullet that was originated in India, and gave the small caliber rifle with which the armies of the world are armed the stopping power of a Gatling gun. It mushroomed on striking, and made a wound from which recovery was practically impossible. But the new Spitz bullet is a very light and sharp-pointed affair. It is shot from a cartridge containing 11.5 grains of nitro powder, as against 45 grains in the Krag cartridge, and it has a velocity of 23,000 feet a second, against 22,000 for the Krag. It has a very flat trajectory and probably will hit and kill a good many more men within the 1,000 yard range, but the wound it makes is not instantly fatal as much more easily healed than any other sort. Just why the Hague Conference should object to its use is a mystery to military men.

Among all these servants placed at the disposal of mankind by nature, none are more useful than are the forests. The rivers and streams are controlled and regulated by them; climate and rainfall are equalized; wood, lumber and fuel supplied; floods, avalanches and soil erosion prevented; the winds moderated; and the devastation of fertile tracts of country checked. Indeed, the past experience of the human race has positively demonstrated that were it not for the forests the most fertile and prosperous countries would soon be transformed into desert wastes, unfit for human habitation.

Doctor Hillis declares there are only two kinds of people in the world—the people who live in the shadow and the gloom and those who live on the sunny side of the street. These shadowed ones are sometimes called pessimists; sometimes people of melancholy temperament; sometimes they are called disagreeable people; but, wherever they go, their characteristic is this: Their shadow always travels on before them. They are so busy looking down for pitfalls and sharp stones and thorns on which to step that they do not even know that there are stars in the skies.

To those who have doubts concerning Judge Landis, it may be stated that while he was born in Indiana, he has been across the Missouri several times in a railroad car, and therefore, had to be shown.

We note the wedding of Mr. Ko Chew, described as a "wealthy Chinese mandarin." Doubtless that was a catch not to be missed at—despite his name.

Boston has put up the price of pie, but nothing can stop codfish and beans from going down in that town.

FROM THE PAGES OF FLORIDA PAPERS.

Good for Old Levy.

Bradford county pays 6 mills school tax for a five months' term. Levy county gets six months for 5 mills. The difference is in favor of Levy county.—Bronson Times-Democrat.

Pleasant and Unpleasant.

In the new deal in Jacksonville municipal politics, Pleasant Holt was given the cold shoulder; but they won't be able to keep him out of the game long. He has a way of making it very unpleasant for those who count him out.—Pensacola Journal.

Let the Band Play.

We extend congratulations to our sister city of Gainesville that it has the State University, and there will be no more hard feelings between that city and this.—Lake City Index.

Let the band play, "Cheer, My Brother, Cheer."—Bronson Times-Democrat.

The Value of the Hen.

The Orange county hen, if treated with due consideration, will be grateful enough to furnish the money to build first-class roads all over the county. In proportion to cost, care and labor, she is doing far more for our farmer than his horses, cattle and lands. By nature and practice she is a tax-payer and a debt raiser.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

Seventy-Year-Old Editor.

Editor C. V. S. Wilson of The Sarasota Times announces that Wednesday, July 10, will be his seventieth birthday. No one will judge from his writings that he in any way feels his age—they are virile and to the point. In fact a man is no older than he feels, and we are sure Brother Wilson feels like a boy. Many more of usefulness is our hearty wish for him.—Tampa Tribune.

Assures Great Fun.

The announcement of Col. T. J. L. Brown that he was out for the Senate, has been received with almost hilarious joy by the State press, for it dissipates the fear that there was to be no humor in the campaign because of the absence of a humorist among the candidates. Col. Brown's candidacy is regarded as a joke so brilliant and so purely original that it does not have to trace its ancestry back to anyone of the thirty-seven antique side-splitters from which Mark Twain says all subsequent jokes have come.—Live Oak Democrat.

Building Boom at Bronson.

There will be something doing in the building line in Bronson this summer. Two brick stores and three new residences are already in sight, with others to hear from. Brick are being placed on the ground for Proctor & Smith's two-story block. Mr. Archilles, who built the court house, has this contract, and will push it to completion. S. L. Bean's new brick block will also go up soon, and the residences of Mrs. S. M. Thomas and H. S. Sutton will go up at once. J. P. Hopping of Gulf Hammock has also contracted for the erection of a house here. So it can be seen that the sound of the hammer and saw will make music here this summer.—Bronson Times-Democrat.

Words of Sympathy.

To his good and admired friend, Adrian P. Jordan, of The Punta Gorda Herald, the editor of The Tribune wishes to send an expression of the sincerest and most solemn sympathy in this hour of his bereavement. Those who know the gentle, the loving heart of our friend will understand how heavy must be the hand of this affliction, how bitter this cup of sorrow.

For near a quarter of a century he has been bound to his devoted wife by the bands of a love deeper and truer and tenderer than the affection that blessed the lives of most men; and now to lose this helpmeet just as she was entering the smoother, more beautiful period of middle life, blessed and hallowed by his devotion, is a crushing blow that beats him down well-nigh to despair.

But death, so cruel in tearing apart the earthly lives of those whom God has joined together, cannot break asunder the everlasting unity of spirit; and He who "wipes all tears from the eyes" let them blind the vision of the soul, will comfort our friend with an insight into the unmeasurable beyond, where he, too, one day will find rest from his labors and regain the joyful companionship of his best beloved who has preceded him.—Tampa Tribune.

A MODEL SPEECH.

Address of Lincoln on Gettysburg Battlefield at War's Close.

(From The Nashville American.)

A recent incident causes The Macon Telegraph to reprint Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which, it says, "can never be too often read by all who would appreciate the power, the beauty, the music of spoken language." The Charlotte Observer also reproduces the speech, and adds:

"This is universally recognized as one of the finest pieces of literature in the language and those who have a copy of it should preserve it. It is indebted to The Macon Telegraph for the information that Lincoln was not the orator of the day which he made his simple but majestic utterance—in its simplicity, comprehensiveness, breadth, and brevity sublime. Another orator of note prepared and delivered the oration of the occasion. His name we do not readily recall at this moment. Lincoln had briefly noted down his thoughts on a stray scrap of paper. His words flowed naturally, simply, lucid, each a shining drop of pure Anglo-Saxon that sparkled like a diamond as it fell. It made a prose poem, scarcely the length of a sonnet, yet epic in its grasp and greatness."

"His name we do not really recall at this moment"—this of the orator of the occasion, who had doubtless made elaborate preparation for it. His words have gone down to nothingness and night, while the simple, natural sentences of Lincoln will live forever."

The orator of the day was Edward Everett of Massachusetts, statesman, orator, preacher, editor of The North American Review, Governor of Massachusetts, member of Congress, minister to England, Secretary of State in Lincoln's cabinet, Senator from Massachusetts, nominee for vice-president in 1860 of the Constitutional Union party, and the intimate friend of Sir Walter Scott. When he delivered the address of the day at Gettysburg, November 19, 1863, he was 70 years old. He died fourteen months later, January 15, 1865. His address was a finished oration, with peroration that brought a storm of applause. Lincoln had written his address, and delivered it in a voice which but many heard. It was as follows:

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great Civil War, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us: that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

When Mr. Lincoln had finished, Mr. Everett declared that while the elaborate address which he had delivered would be soon forgotten, Mr. Lincoln's would live as a masterpiece of English and eloquence. Mr. Everett seems to have been correct. Two well-informed newspapers confess they have forgotten the name of the principal speaker on that occasion. Mr. Everett was a scholar, a graduate of Harvard, a student in English and German universities, a highly polished, cultured gentleman of wide learning and refining association, while Mr. Lincoln's education was obtained in a log school house, by the firelight, among men and amid nature. No finer letter was ever written than the one he wrote to the mother of five

SLEEPLESSNESS.

Do you know what makes people lay awake and toss and roll about at night?

Doctors tell you there are various causes. I tell you it's stomach trouble. I know it because I've seen thousands of cases and watched them. A stomach that is over-crowded with undigested, decaying food matter effects every organ of the human body. It causes nervousness, headaches, constipation, impure blood, poor circulation and dulls the mind. It makes one restless and uneasy. When your stomach is working right you feel right. You sleep well and you eat well.

People come to me day after day and tell me they can't rest after eating. They have a dull headache. At night they go to bed simply because they are exhausted. They catch a few cat naps and get up in the morning feeling as worn out as they did before.

I have recommended Cooper's New Discovery, a regular diet, regular habits and invariably these same people come to me afterwards and tell me they feel much better because they eat well and sleep well. Here with is a sample.

A letter I received from Mrs. Geo. Weisel, 1121 Providence Road, Scranton, Pa., says:

"I suffered for three years from stomach trouble, inactive liver and rheumatism. Everything I ate disagreed with me and I lay awake night after night. I had no pleasure in life and could scarcely do my work about the house. I heard from a neighbor of Cooper's New Discovery and I bought two bottles of it. It helped me right away. Now I have a good appetite and never suffer from indigestion. I sleep well and awake refreshed. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for what this medicine has done for me."

The Cooper medicines have a larger sale than any medicines on the market. Our customers speak highly of them.

J. W. McCollum & Co.

sons who died in battle. It is as follows:

"I have been shown in the files of the war department a statement that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from your grief for a loss so overwhelming—but I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation which may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and the lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

This letter is a gem—marred by the expression, "I have been shown"—an error common with many writers. This letter and his Gettysburg speech established Mr. Lincoln's reputation as a matter of expression.

Negroes Dying in Old Dominion.
Richmond, Va., July 11.—The death rate among the negro population in nine cities in Virginia during the month of May last far exceeds that of the whites in the same places, according to the state health bulletin. The nine cities contain a population of 197,915 whites and 124,940 negroes, deaths among the former being only 254, as against 315 among the latter. In other words, the negro population in the cities mentioned is only about five-eighths of that of the whites, while the deaths among the negroes are nearly one-fourth larger than that of the whites.

Women to Erect Monument.
Amherst, Va., July 11.—A well defined movement is on foot among the women of Nelson county to erect a costly monument to the memory of a soldier who was killed by Judge William G. Loving, the son of the late Governor of Virginia.

ALLEGED CRUELTY PRACTICED.

Awful State of Affairs Reported in Insane Asylum at Tuscaloosa.

Montgomery, Ala., July 11.—The Birmingham Post-Herald has secured a resolution to investigate the charges that there is inhuman treatment of the insane in the Alabama institution, located at Tuscaloosa. The paper's alleged efforts to show that patients are kept in cell-halls naked and that others had been beaten into insensibility.

H. M. Harton, of Birmingham, who secured release from the asylum by having a doctor testify that he knew of the ill-treatment of patients by the cruelty of the nurses, and said that he was beaten into insensibility within 15 minutes after he arrived there.

A. J. Newton, a former nurse, said he saw patients so hungry they picked old pieces of bread from the swill barrel.

A. J. Beard, of Avondale, says he saw John Hinds, of Lauderdale, beaten until he vomited blood and helped to lay him out later after he had died from his injuries.

Another witness said he knew of patients being beaten into insensibility and then caused in the horse trough to revive them.

HOW BONNER WON SUCCESS

The career of Robert Bonner, the veteran publisher, furnishes a signal illustration of the value of persistent and energetic advertising. When he began the publication of the paper whose phenomenal success brought him fame and fortune, he did not wait for the people to find out, slowly and gradually, the interesting features of his journal.

He forced his enterprise upon public attention by a systematic lavishment of expenditure for advertising which at that time was without precedent or parallel. Whole pages of daily newspapers were secured at high prices to blazon forth the merits of his undertaking.

From one end of the country to the other the names of Bonner and his Ledger were made familiar to the people by constant repetition.

Conservative publishers, juggling along in the rut of old routine, prophesied bankruptcy and ruin for this unconventional innovator, but Bonner kept on spending a large share of his receipts in buying publicity, and these receipts increased with startling rapidity.

Every dollar disbursed in this way brought in more dollars until creditors were confounded and pessimists in this particular branch of business silenced by his tremendous success.

The lesson is one that is as well worth heeding today as it was forty years ago. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

TENDED HIS OWN VICTIM.

After shooting Nicholson, Dr. Smith gave medical aid.

Eastman, Ga., July 11.—Dr. S. P. Smith, a prominent physician of Yonker, in this county, has been placed in jail here charged with the killing of Jop Nicholson at that place, the shooting having occurred on last Thursday, and Mr. Nicholson having died Sunday.

Mr. Nicholson was conducting a store in a small building owned by Dr. Smith, and in the rear of which Dr. Smith had his office. About dusk Thursday evening they became involved in an altercation in the store which resulted in Dr. Smith shooting Nicholson in the neck, from the effects of which he died Sunday.

Immediately after the shooting, Dr. Smith had Nicholson taken into his office and himself rendered the necessary medical attention.

George Everett, negro, who was climbing a ride on the top of the cars.

Twenty cars were piled on each other and both engines demolished.

ROBBED COMPANY OF $25,000.

Defending New Orleans Man Is Captured in Louisiana.

Louisville, Ky., July 11.—B. Freeman Robinson, alias Robert Frazer, under arrest here, was positively identified Tuesday morning as the defending employee of Gillette & Young, cotton exporters of New Orleans, from whom he is alleged to have stolen $25,000. The identification was made by James Denny, an employee of Gillette & Young.

Robinson, when he realized he could not escape identification, said: "Hello, Denny." According to Denny, Robinson left New Orleans in March, after it had been discovered that he was short in his accounts.

Attempt to Wreck Train.

Albany, Ga., July 10.—The regular Atlantic Coast Line passenger train from Brunswick to Albany, which reached this place at midnight Sunday night, narrowly escaped derailment near Nahusta, crosses having been placed on the track for the evident purpose of wrecking the train. When the first obstruction was struck it was hurled from the track by the locomotive, and the engineer succeeded in bringing the train to a stop before the second obstruction was reached. Several similar, but unsuccessful attempts have been made in the vicinity of Nahusta to wreck trains, but none have been successful.

Criminal Assault Charged.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 11.—Will Price, a negro man living on the plantation of Ben Peak, southeast of Cuthbert, is in jail under a warrant charging criminal assault upon a young white girl by the name of Burk. Living on the plantation of Dr. M. A. Baldwin, which is in the same section of the county as the Peak farm. The offense was said to have been committed Saturday evening. The juries of the May term of court were not discharged, but were held subject to the call of the court.

Woman Sentenced to Death.

Moscow, July 10.—Mrs. Fronzoni, who, in March last attempted to assassinate General Rheinboldt, the ex- prefect of police and who on May 15 made an attempt to murder the inspector of the political prison here, wounding him with a pistol which had been smuggled into her cell, was sentenced to death Tuesday.

Her Bread.

"Mean thing!" exclaimed Mrs. New Ewed. "It's just brutal of you to call it this stuff. You said you'd be glad if I baked my own bread."

"You dear," replied the great brute, "but I didn't say I wanted you to bake mine."—Philadelphia Press.

LEGEND OF THE BOUNTY.

A British Brig Whose Ghost Still Sails the South Seas.

So famous has become the Flying Dutchman and the story of the punishment visited for impiety upon her captain that the yarn has overshadowed many others equally good. There is, for instance, the tale still told in the atolls of the south seas concerning the brig Bounty, of mutiny fame, which, for dramatic intenseness, far outweighs it.

As a tale of adventure few, if any, stories of real life can exceed in tragic detail the story of the mutiny of the British brig of war Bounty. Her men, disheartened and oppressed by a tyrannical captain, set upon their officers and, murdering some, set the rest adrift in open boats. Then the mutineers sailed to a deserted island, first taking unto themselves wives of the daughters of the islanders, and their descendants still live on a rocky island in the south Pacific. For years after the mutiny the whereabouts of the ship and her crew was unknown, and she was supposed to have foundered at sea. Naturally stories, weaving themselves from the phantasmagoria of the sea, were told concerning her at the wharves where seamen congregated and finally crystallized into one gruesome yarn which might have served Coleridge as the framework for his "Rime of the Ancient Mariner." Any old whaler in Frisco can tell the legend which is the white man's contribution to the romance swathed south sea islands.

She, like the death ship seen by the Ancient Mariner, comes sweeping down on a vessel when the wind has fallen and the ship lies "idle as a painted ship upon a painted ocean." Her dead crew are at quarters, and her murdered officers are still on the quarter deck, but there is no flag flying. Aft, at the taffrail, a man is struggling to raise the bunting, but, as the old whaler will tell you, he can't—"God won't let him." The planking of the ship is covered with mold, and her sails, worn by countless winds, are thin as lace, letting the sun through in golden arabesques. All is order and discipline aboard as she sails slowly by the becalmed whaler, the white water under her forefoot and her wake trailing behind, a glittering furrow. She swims while as she comes near, the sun glances for a moment on her gossamer canvas and she is not. She "goes out like a sash lamp in a blow," say old shellbacks who have seen her.—New York Herald.

Sold Yankee Engineers.

The operations of Yankee engineers are a source of constant wonder and bewilderment to all foreigners. The daring way in which the Americans blow up mountains that come in their way or string bridges over seemingly impassable canyons almost takes their breath away.

On one job in South America a contractor used about $200,000 worth of powder in blasting. He employed 500 men and completed a piece of work in less than three months that local authorities said could not be done inside of ten years.

He put 3,000 kegs of powder in one blast, and when the shot went off it sent over 700 train loads of rock down a cliff into the river. There was such a mass of debris that it raised the water of the stream fifty-five feet in less than twenty minutes. The channel had to be blasted out to let the water through. The force of this immense charge was so great that it sent huge boulders the size of box cars sailing over the hill like a flock of buzzards flying over a barn.—Toledo Blade.

Dog Seeks Aid For Horse.

Frisk, a beautiful coach dog and Jack, a fine bay two-year-old of trotting stock, were raised together on our farm and became fast friends, sleeping in the same stall and, in fact, were almost inseparable. Jack had been overfed on new oats, resulting in a severe attack of colic, which often proves fatal to horses in a short time. About midnight Frisk awakened us by scratching at the door and barking as if in great distress. Upon opening the door to ascertain the cause of the uproar, the dog pleadingly stood up on his hind feet, putting his paws against me and whined most piteously, then started toward the barn in the same appealing manner. My curiosity being thoroughly aroused, I followed and, before reaching the barn, could hear Jack barking and groaning. To cure him was an easy matter. Years afterward Jack was a "waver" in many races, and Frisk was still a close and loyal protector, guarding Jack from all intruders who sought entrance without the trainer or myself.—Chicago Tribune.

A WOMAN'S QUICK EYE.

Was the Means of Gaining a Fortune at Monte Carlo.

Nearly every one who has been to Monte Carlo has heard of "Mamma" Vland, a little, bent old French woman, a widow, who played for years. "Mamma" Vland played roulette each day from morning until night. Her ready eyes, twitching nervously, saw nothing but the ivory ball as it fell to the cell. As they watched her fagging from the gaming tables late at night people pitied her.

Her whole soul, her life, seemed absorbed in the awful desire of winning. The old woman at times lost heavily, or here, then she regained her losses, for a long time she was enabled to live and continue her feverish pursuit of the game.

One night the old woman lost nearly all her store. As she passed from the table, despair in her eyes, her attention was attracted by another wheel. She stopped and bent over the table again and again the wheel spun round and stopped. The old woman's eyes sparkled. A flush suffused her pallid cheeks.

As she left the room she clapped her hands, and her laugh—a shrill, mocking chuckle—startled the gamblers as ominous, uncanny.

"Better watch the old woman!" one of the official lookouts told a detective. He followed "Mamma" Vland to her cell. He listened outside of her door. There was no alarming sound. In a port while she extinguished her lights and evidently had retired.

The following evening she reappeared in the gaming hall. Her eyes still sparkled; her cheeks were still flushed. With her were several notorious gamblers. They approached a table. "Mamma" Vland began to play.

"She won. The gamblers, who had snatched her money, watched. She played a second time and won and a third time and won. The gamblers looked amazed and saw the old woman taking in thousands of francs.

During the evening the old woman sat by the table, playing persistently. Her winnings doubled, trebled, quadrupled and piled up about her.

The management became alarmed. A consultation was held. Special detectives were sent to watch her. Scores gathered about the table, looking breathlessly at her wonderful run of luck. The detectives reported to the management that "Mamma" Vland was playing a certain combination of numbers that invariably won.

One of the directors besought the old woman to desist playing. The bank could be broke, he declared. She smiled and continued to play.

The director offered her $50,000 to cease playing. He doubled the figure and she would tell him the secret of her success. He impudently her to take $200,000, $250,000, only cease waging her successful battle for gold.

Finally he offered her $300,000. Accepting this, "Mamma" Vland, gathering together her fortune, told him very quietly that in passing the table the night before her quick eye had detected that the ball of this particular wheel stopped at a certain place at regular intervals. The managers examined the wheel, found that it was out of order and congratulated themselves upon having comprehended with the old woman. Philadelphia North American.

The Smile

That won't come off appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face? If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S—, Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since." Sold by W. M. Johnson.
